

Proclaimed Town Property

The Elk Point Historical Mural is now property of the Town of Elk Point, following the above proclamation by Historical Society President Sheila Thompson, who handed over ownership to Mayor Bruce Kleeberger at a special ceremony on Canada Day.

Not your usual Canada Day

Rain mars Canada's sesquicentennial celebration in Elk Point.

Canada Day 1992 in Elk Point was unusual in several respects. Firstly, it was the nation's 125th birthday, and an important milestone. Secondly, the celebration carried on right from the previous Saturday, when Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre marked their Official Opening, until late Wednesday afternoon. Thirdly, it included the long awaited dedication and turning over of the Elk Point Historical Mural, and fourthly, for the first time in the dozen or so years we have celebrated Canada Day, it brought a major downpour which gave new hope to area farmers and sent the stage show indoors.

A pleasantly cool morning greeted the 800 people who fueled up for their day's activities at the Chamber of Commerce Pancake Breakfast, before lining the streets to enjoy the parade.

This year's parade was sponsored by the Elk Point and District Lions Club, and featured a number of first time entrants, such as the Vegreville Chamber of Commerce's pysanka float, and one from the Wainwright Chamber featuring a very life like clock tower. Winners in the various categories were:

Horses and Riders - 1. Tanya Kenyon, 2. Nicole Robinson, 3. Betty Way.

Decorated Bikes - 1. Mary Easthope.

Commercial Floats - 1. E-Can Oilfield Service, 2. Co-op, 3. B & R Eckels.

Industrial Floats - 1. Norcen Energy Resources, 2. Pan Canadian Petroleum.

Canada Day Theme - 1. Canada Day Committee.

Adult Clubs and Organizations - 1. Pioneer Circle, 2. Historical Society, 3. Oilettes.

Youth Clubs and Organizations - Elk Point 4-H Multi-Club, 2. Elk Point Library.

Antique Vehicles - 1. Bob Lee, 1929 Desoto, 2. Gunther May, 1957 Chevy, 3. Gunther May, Oldsmobile, tied with Joe Miller, Dodge.

Individual Free Style - 1. Wainwright Chamber of Commerce, 2. Vegreville Chamber of Commerce with Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club, 3. Emily McDonald.

The parade was led by scarlet coated RCMP officers who marched to the fine music of the Strathcona Pipe Band.

Mural Dedication

From the parade route, the crowd moved to Mural Park, for the ceremony which dedicated the giant paintings to the pioneers of the community and the turning over of the completed project to the Town of Elk Point.

Master of Ceremonies Frank Mayner welcomed the guests and introduced Ian and Pat Perry of Bonnyville, who combined musical and vocal talents in the presentation of an original song, "Canada, Land of Dreams," written by Mrs. Perry.

Vicki Brooker gave a history of the mural itself, which in the earliest days of its conception in April 1987, was to have been completed by Canada Day of that year. However, the massive scope of the project and the time required to complete it were underestimated, and mural painter Billie Milholland did not add the final touches until October 1988, while the park which forms its setting was completed this spring. "Perfection," Ms Brooker emphasized, "takes time."

Elk Point and District Historical Society, who originally undertook the project as a tribute to the settlers who came to the district eighty years earlier, was represented by President Sheila Thompson, who said the mural "shows the Canadian dream. It is a jewel in what became a heritage theme, with the park a beautiful setting." Ms Thompson then read the scroll which dedicated the mural and turned over its ownership, and that of the park, to the Town of Elk Point.

Riel Beach Campsite Opened

A proud moment for Fishing Lake Metis Settlement was marked on Friday, July 3, with the opening of Riel Beach Campsite. Settlement Chairman Cliff Calliou (fourth from left) cut the ribbon, which was held by RCMP officers Ralph Cardinal and Pat Muzzeral and a full complement of Council members. Please see our Supplement: "The Lakeland - What's In It For You?" for further details on the opening.

Fertilizer blender opened

Alberta Wheat Pool saw a long awaited goal reached on Friday, July 3, at the Official Opening of their Fertilizer Blending Plant in Elk Point.

Sub District 608 Delegate Ken Shalka introduced Westco Fertilizer representative Laurie Park, Agro Marketing Specialist Harold Schmaltz, Vermilion PR man Ed Palmer and Elk Point elevator staff, Jack Skulski and Doreen Youngmans to the gathering, and thanked local committee members Larry Babcock, Craig Campbell, Glenn Flanders, Les Meger, John Mohoyluk and John Wozniak for their efforts. Larry Babcock officiated at the ribbon cutting.

The fertilizer blender is a 400 tonne capacity RanCan, which will blend 90 tonnes per hour and which cost $190,000 installed. It has a 7.5 tonne overhead scale and features totally automatic, computer controlled blending, with the blending taking place in the tube as the product is unloaded from the blender.

Westco rep Laurie Parks presented a donation from that company toward the Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department Rescue Van. One dollar for each tonne of urea product sold by the Elk Point AWP this spring went toward the donation, which was accepted by Fire Chief Ken Palamarek. Ms Parks said that Westco likes to be involved at the community level in projects such as this, which benefit the entire community.

The opening ceremony was followed by a lunch featuring 'home grown' products: locally made garlic sausage accompanied by Chili Wheat, Spicy Hot Split Peas and Hot and Spicy Lentils.

Farmers Aid Rescue Van

Farmers who purchased urea fertilizer from the AWP's new facility this spring helped along the Fire Department's rescue van project. Laurie Park of Westco Fertilizer presented Fire Chief Ken Palamarek with $800, a dollar for every tonne of urea purchased, toward the van.

Tennis tip

Tennis Tip #2: When playing a match with an opponent, try to hit the ball as deep as possible in your opponent's court. This eliminates his or her chances to move to the attack, and forces them to make a tougher shot from the baseline! Remember - practice makes perfect!

Facility Opened

Participants from the St. Paul 4-H Light Horse Club and the Elk Point Saddle Slickers jockeyed for Grand Champion status. When the dust settled, Shanna Baker (centre) of Elk Point had won it, along with the Junior high points title. Audrey Ewart (left) took Senior high points and Reserve Champion, and Amber Ferris was the Pee Wee high points winner.

What's Happening At COMMUNITY SERVICES

Fun Tournament Winners

Pederson Busline Tigers brought this large and successful squad to compete in the Canada Day Fun Ball Tournament in Elk Point this past week, and took home first place, as the team that had the most fun of all. Come back again next year and defend your title, Tigers!

Bouquets

Thanks to IGA, Pederson Bus Lines Tigers, 4-H Bull Fighters, Elk Point Municipal Hospital Bandages, Sunshine Bus Line Wanderers and the Young Guns for participating in the Canada Day Fun Slow-pitch Tournament. Your good sportsmanship and sense of humor added to these "not so normal" ball games. The umps (who could definitely benefit from an umping clinic!) rated the IGA team as the "most sportsmanlike", with all other teams finishing a close second. A big bouquet to Daphne Schnurer for her advice and for lending equipment. Special thanks to June Stone for her assistance throughout the games. Thanks again and see you next year!!

One jacket was left at the school ball diamond and can be claimed at Community Services.

Summer Play

Darwin Roscoe is this year's Summer Play Coordinator at Community Services. He just returned from attending a workshop in Vermilion that was specifically designed for individuals who will be leading summer recreation programs for children. And now he's ready and full of enthusiasm to put all of those great ideas into action.

There are still a few spaces available in Club 3/4 (for 3 and 4 year olds). So if your child hasn't registered, hurry before all spaces are taken. There will be a wide variety of crafts, stories, songs, indoor and outdoor activities, field trips and special events. A light, nutritional snack will be provided for the children each day as well. The program runs from July 6 to August 14. Call Darwin at 724-3800 for more information.

Active Living

Active Living is a simple yet compelling and relevant concept. It is based on the belief that physical activity improves individual well-being and the quality of life of our communities.

While in the past, emphasis had been placed on physical fitness and exercise primarily as a way to improve health, we now think in broader terms about how physical activity enhances many aspects of our lives.

Active Living engages the whole person, body, mind and spirit, and therefore provides a broad range of benefits and opportunities.

Examples are all around us. A child's joy when swimming for the first time. A young woman's increased sense of security from learning self-defense techniques. An older person's improved mobility as a result of regular cycling. A family's satisfaction in planting a garden. An athlete's feeling of accomplishment in playing wheelchair tennis. A sense of creative expression through dance.

For individuals, Active Living means valuing physical activity and making it a part of everyday life. Each of us brings something special to our experience of Active Living: our skills, physical makeup, personal needs and preferences, values and expectations. How we live actively changes with the seasons, with each stage of life and with our own evolving needs and likes.

Active Living includes a wide variety of activity choices such as walking to work, outdoor activities and recreational games, participating in exercise classes at school, through the workplace or community programs, cycling with the family or participating in organized sport activities.

Thirty-one days hath July

July, seventh month of our year, first month of our all-too-brief summer, hot, sunny and dry as you are, we salute you. 'Tis the month of longest days, almost no nights. Usually filled with gnats, flies and mosquitoes (and a few new leaves after caterpillar destruction), we've had a strangely different introduction to July this year.

I've loafed on my deck some evenings, with nothing more bothering me than a cool breeze; the trees around me are still loaded with their original leaves, nicely fluttering. True, the grass is growing thinner, rather than more lush, even with what water I can run on it. There is no substitute for rain. "Rain?" you ask. "Whatever is that?" But you know. It's what everywhere else is getting, wet stuff from the sky; it makes your 'taters grow. Think back to other years, with three day soakers. And crops up to there, instead of eight inches tall and shrinking.

From June 22 until July 23, we are under the sign of Cancer (the crab), so it's probably no wonder I'm crabby. My own birthday doesn't fall in that time frame, but many in my family mark theirs. So, perhaps, this is a good time to wish them well on their special days:

Going down through the calendar, I see first mention: Andy and Caroline Arnold, 15th wedding anniversary (my nephew), July 8; Austin Gregory Fisher, 7th birthday, July 12 (my great-grandson); Ruth Megan Magnusson, 11th birthday, July 13 (granddaughter); Emerson (Buck) and Doreen Arnold, 32nd wedding anniversary (my brother), July 14; also, my brother Frank Arnold's birthday, 76.

The most senior of my living relatives observes his birthday on July 19: Herbert

E. Hobden (my uncle Bert), aged 94 and going strong. On July 22, brother Norman and wife Molly mark their wedding anniversary, but I fail to have the year marked. I think it's around 45 years. Our first son, Mel Magnusson, joined us on July 28, 1937, and my nephew, Adam Arnold, used the same day in 1976 (brother Alan's son), which makes him an astonishing 16 years!

Enough already? Mais non! On July 29, my sister Virginia and Eric Carlson will celebrate 42 years of wedded bliss, while last, but not least, my sister-in-law, Alberta (Magnusson) Emsley will mark her (less than mine) birthday.

I've probably missed a few, but to those in my little Calendar of Roses Birthday Book, I wish you joy and many returns of your special "day"! Now, why do I get the feeling I've missed a couple of golden fiftieths in there, somewhere? Is it you, Frank and Evelyn? I know my cousin Ellen and Barry Shilka hit their half-century mark, July 5 last year.

We know a 50th anniversary is golden, whenever it falls; the July birthstone is ruby, the flowers are larkspur and water lilies, while the only holiday in the whole of July is Canada Day, and we've used it up already! But for many, the entire month of July is one big long holiday, and let them well enjoy it. (Go easy on the sun bathing, though; they are really warning everyone about the dangers of too much sun. Ultraviolet, gamma rays, skin cancer and, yes, freckles, can all be blamed on too much exposure to the naked sun. So, cover up!)

Nothing much of interest occurs in the sky in July, probably because it's mostly daylight. However, we do have a full buck moon on Tuesday, July 14; if it gets above the trees it will be visible.

There have been constant articles and urgings by the learned of the land on what to eat to keep in a state of constant good health. Vegetables have always been boosted as being 'good for you', but some are 'gooder' than others. One such is the sweet potato, mistakenly called by some "yams". Apparently, there is quite a difference, a yam being nothing to write home about, while the sweet potato, which grows profusely in North Carolina, is loaded with vitamins, out-distancing the carrot and orange both for the stuff that health is made from. They taste so-o-o good, too. I've heard they cook well in the microwave oven; try it next time. North Carolina produces 450 million pounds per year! (And that's a bunch.)

Alberta Trails

By Irene Magnusson

Back to July: we here in Elk Point and vicinity have already enjoyed quite a bit of celebrating and holiday-making. What with the bicentennial grand opening of the Interpretive Centre, the R.C.M.P. Regimental Ball, the gospel concert and all the whoopdeedo and street dancing, the parade and fireworks, stage show and dedication of the Mural Park, the singers, dancers, Canada Day cake, ball games and etc., etc., we are probably celebrated out for the time being.

In the coming week, I expect to weed, water and even hoe my garden; even if it isn't the best, it has value to me.

Then, perhaps, I will follow the herds and see if I can find a vacant piece of beach to look at the water again and remember other years. Perhaps (dare I hope?) some of the holiday makers will wander into my yard and home for a good old fashioned visit. Years ago my kids called these summer months "relation season", when we welcomed them in droves. Ah, but we were all younger then.

I hope everyone has been able to enjoy the lovely, lovely roses.

Our Past

Steve Andrishak

A tragedy occurred in Elk Point on August 4, 1936. At approximately 7:30 a.m. one of our prominent citizens was murdered on fifty-first street, about a half block south of the Old Senior Citizen building. Apparently this tragedy was the result of an all-night drinking party near the Walter Johnson residence. Prior to this, Mrs. Johnson had been shot at by one of those attending the party. With the bullet narrowly missing her head she suddenly screamed for help. Her call was answered by Mr. Jack Fitzsimmons who was the grain agent for the Alberta Wheat Pool at that time. Mr. Fitzsimmons lived in the corner residence now occupied by Mrs. Youngmans. When Mr. Fitzsimmons entered the middle of the street he was suddenly gunned down by the killer. He died instantly on the spot.

The day of the tragedy I was visiting in Edmonton and as I was walking down 101 Street I heard a newsboy calling out the headlines in a shrill voice "Man murdered in Elk Point". I quickly bought an Edmonton Journal and read of this tragedy.

Immediately after Mr. Fitzsimmons was killed, the R.C.M.P. were called in from nearby St. Paul and the hunt for the killer was on. The hunt involved a number of police as well as some local residents and a bloodhound which had been brought in from Edmonton. The bloodhound soon picked up a scent and lead the search party a few miles north, next the search shifted to the west. The dog then changed his direction again and followed a creek, finally arriving back at the starting point. Finally, the tracking dog gave up the chase altogether. At that time it was thought that the bloodhound had picked up a false scent, however that was not the case. Later it was proven the killer had taken this path and had returned to our village. During the following three days it appeared the killer had completely vanished. Many of our local residents felt uneasy knowing a killer was loose somewhere in our district. On the fourth day after the murder one of our district residents (Harry Smith) was walking near the Victoria Grain Elevator when he detected a strong odor. Upon investigating he discovered the badly decomposed body of the killer. It was laying in a clump of willows about where our present bottle depot stands. Apparently the killer had taken his own life rather than try to evade the police. The weather had been extremely hot at the time and the quick decomposition of the body aided in its discovery. Needless to say, our local residents were greatly relieved knowing the killer no longer was at large.

This tragedy was a great shock to our community and to the Fitzsimmons family. They were well known and respected in Elk Point. Mr. Fitzsimmons was known by all farmers throughout the farming district. The Fitzsimmons family consisted of a number of teenagers, namely Russel, Dora, Edward, Tommy, Ella and Harold.

After this tragedy the family moved to St. Paul. With the outbreak of World War II some of the family went their separate ways. Later I learned Russel had joined the Canadian Navy and served for the duration of the war. Edward became an airline pilot in England and Harold, I believe, was employed by the Edmonton Journal for many years.

Ironically, Mrs. Johnson, who was shot at by the killer, died violently in an automobile accident some years later. A son, George, was killed in an oil drilling accident.

Ella, the youngest of the Fitzsimmons girls, paid Elk Point a visit about three years ago; she was accompanied by her lawyer son. She came back to visit her father's grave, which is in our west cemetery. It was her first visit to Elk Point since the tragedy which occurred 56 years ago.

Gospel concert a great success

Three solid hours of great musical entertainment were enjoyed at the Second Annual Canada Day Gospel Concert, with well in excess of a hundred listeners on hand for the Sunday, June 28 event.

The evening started off with a welcome by Rev. Sam Donaldson of Elk Point United Church, a flag ceremony by the Elk Point Scouting Association, O Canada by Gaby Bayduza and a prayer of approach by Pastor Jim MacLellan, Elk Point Baptist Church.

Canada Day Chairman Joe Brunner welcomed back Steve and Jo Carter of Three Hills, who had also performed at the 1991 concert, and thanked Irene Lindquist for hosting the visitors. The Carters were "thrilled to come back - we sensed good community spirit in Elk Point." The duo made several appearances during the concert, with their first selections being "Exalt

The Name" and "I Saw The Lord."

Judy Kim was next on the program, with some very accomplished piano numbers. Henry Botting of Heinsburg sang two gospel favorites, "Peace In The Valley" and "Precious Lord, Lead Me Home." Young Shane Rebyrna of St. Paul gave an awe inspiring performance of "Dear Mr. Jesus" and "The Holy City," accompanied in the latter by his mother Leslie on piano.

The Carters started their second section with a clarinet and piano number, then sang "He Is Mine" and "Set Free." Franklin and Gwen Wolters sang "Where Can I Go" and "What A Day That Will Be," accompanied by Gwen on mandolin, Franklin on harmonica, and Marge Heffernan and Rick Peters on guitar. Rick Peters then offered two vocal solos, "Jesus My Redeemer" and an a capella version of "Peace Like A River."

Grace Meger performed two numbers in song and accordion, "How Long Since You Talked To The Lord" and

"He Touched Me," with Henry Botting adding his guitar. Botting then sang "Mansion Over The Hilltop" and "I Believe." Shane Rebyrna returned with "Thank You For Giving To The Lord." Kelly Oszust played a very nice piano selection.

A quartet of Udo Mueller, Ken Vickery, Harry Peters and Dan Screpnick sang two numbers, "Angels Watching Over Me" and "Bound For The Promised Land." Mueller was then joined by his wife Emily and daughters Kelsey and Erin for "Tell Me of Jesus," with Kelsey then singing "Mother I Love You."

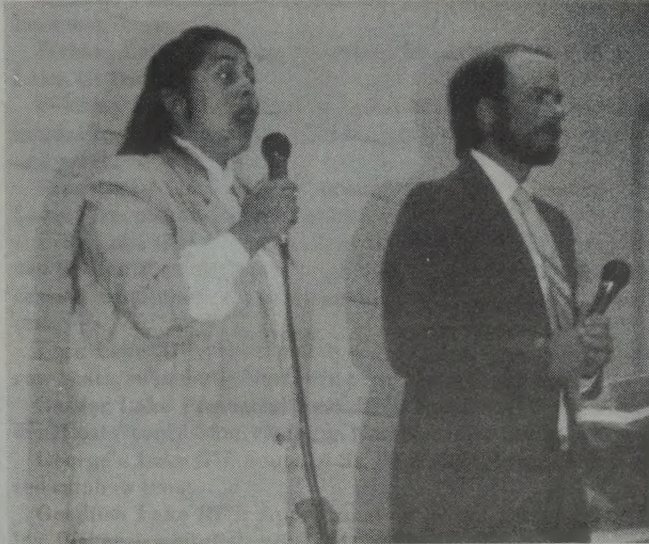

Sherry Oszust raised her powerful voice in praise for "All I Need To Know" and "Thank You." The Wolters and their accompanists were back with "In The Sweet Bye And Bye" and "Jesus I Come." Peggy Adomaitis and Caroline Cherney offered "The Stranger of Galilee" and "Let Me Be Worthy," accompanied by Gaby Bayduza.

The Carters wound up the program with three numbers, "God Has Blessed This Nation," "We Shall Behold Him" and "Softly and Tenderly." Pastor Jim MacLellan thanked Rev. Donaldson for arranging the concert and said that those in attendance had been "blessed by the messages" contained in the music, before closing with a benediction.

Family Style Gospel

Carters Return

Jo and Steve Carter were warmly received when they headlined the Canada Day Gospel Concert for a second year running.

LRA finals

Plans are already underway for one of St. Paul's biggest annual attractions: the Lakeland Finals Rodeo.

The event, slated for the Sept. 3 to 6, will host 92 of the Lakeland Rodeo Association's top competitors, in a race for the L.R.A. crown.

"It's going to be bigger and better than ever," St. Paul Ag Society president Doreen Kuzma says.

Kuzma and L.R.A. manager Diane Bailey are already hard at work on the event, signing talents Rod Tande and Emery Erickson, two of the most respected announcers in the business.

"We're booking special events now in the morning of that week, because the afternoons and evenings are already too busy," Bailey said last week.

Still, she says, things are going well. Bands County Express and the Michael Brothers have agreed to perform at weekend socials, and Radio LW is planning to turn the street dance into a full talent show.

And sponsors are cooperating very well.

"These days, they come to us before we can canvass them," Bailey says. "More and more people want to be a part of it."

E-Can Supports Scouting

Andrew Boddy of E-Can Oilfield Services presented Tim Zarowny of Elk Point Scouting Association with a very welcome donation toward the development of the Association's Scout Hill. The Scouts, Cubs and Beavers are fundraising toward a project in which they will build a 'camp house' at the site.

who accepted the scroll, said the mural was typical of the things Elk Point does with Provincial seed money and community effort, with the original funding "mushrooming" with the generosity of local groups and individuals, who donated such features as the fountain and sundial, and the labor to install the sod. "It took five years to complete, but only a minimum amount of tax money." The Mayor noted that this is the third of three successful major projects undertaken by the Historical Society in the past fifteen years: the history book and its supplement, the development of an interpretive centre at the Fort George- Buckingham House site "which resulted from their tremendous lobbying and support," and the mural, "which was a cooperative effort."

Kleeberger presented the Society with a plaque commemorating the efforts which went into this beautiful addition to the community.

Frank Mayner noted that when the mural project got underway, the Historical Society had less than ten active members, of which two, Mary Bennett and Bea Sumpton, have since passed on. Both of these ladies "served the Society and the community faithfully" for many years, he said.

Harry Hryniw closed the ceremony with a song, "Let's Be Thankful," as the first drops of rain fell, sending the crowd scurrying for cover.

Afternoon Stage Show

Rain was alternately falling and threatening at the time set for the afternoon activities at the Canada Day Stage, so 'Plan B' was put into action, and the crowd directed to the High School gymnasium. However, this site was found to be chairless, necessitating a move to 'Plan C' - the Elementary School auditorium.

Almost a full hour late, MC Tom Rae welcomed the growing crowd and announced the arrival of the color party, led by an honor guard from the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps Arrowhead, St. Paul. Randall Kryns led the singing of O Canada.

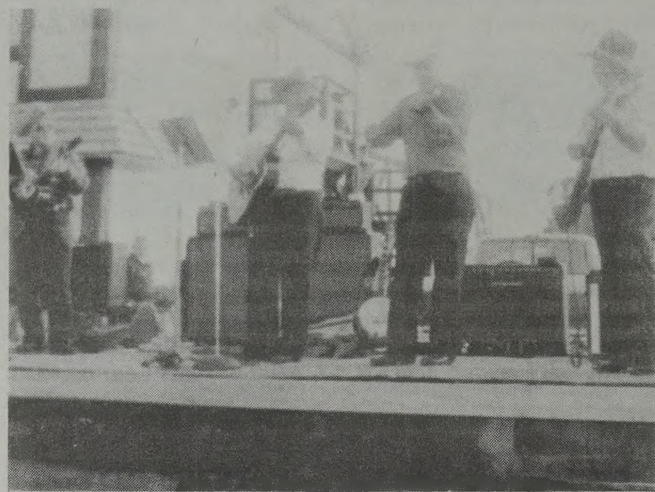

Mayor Kleeberger also brought words of welcome, noting that "Canada is not great because we are all the same, but because we are different." He assured first time visitors that "it hasn't rained on a Canada Day for twelve years" and would not happen again if they come back next year.

Entertainment began with the Ukrainian Dance Club, who offered two groups of young dancers, plus a solo by Jasmin Brown and a duet by Taralee and James Babenek. The dancers are a perennial favorite at Canada Day, and it was a pleasure to welcome them back for another year.

Talents displayed were of various sorts. Travis Pankiw sang an original love song to his own guitar accompaniment, and received thunderous applause. Romy Rhoner, one of Elk Point's members of the Alcadary Dance Studio, performed a graceful ballet solo.

Violinist Jesse Fisk, who had performed earlier on the Canada Day Committee's parade float, had Harry Hryniw of Two Hills as guitar accompaniment for two toe-tapping numbers. Hryniw then repeated his song from the mural opening.

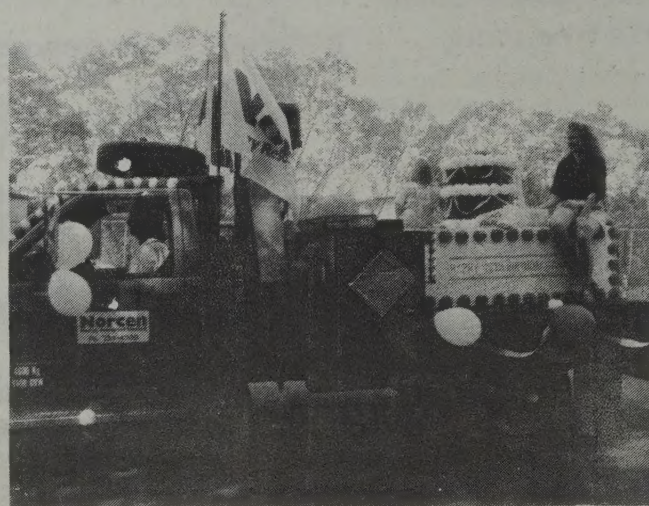

Dancing In The Streets

Fred Brind (right) and his fellow musicians had them dancing in the streets of Elk Point last Monday night at the pre-Canada Day street dance sponsored by the Canada Day Committee.

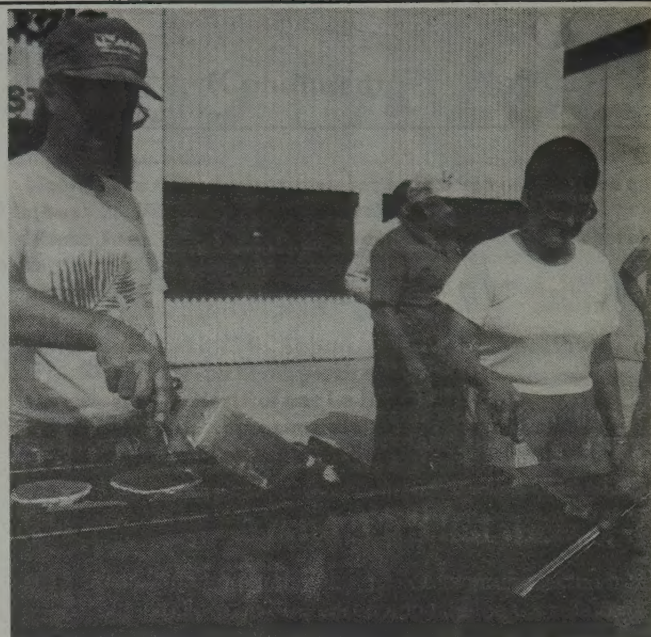

Pipers Lead The Way

Strathcona Pipe and Drum Band led the 1992 Canada Day Parade.

Industrial Winner

Norcen Energy Resources had the first place float in the industrial category, with a birthday cake and pretty girls along for the ride.

Flipping Those Flapjacks

Mark Wilson and Chamber President Millie Orr take their turns with the turners at the Chamber of Commerce Pancake Breakfast on Canada Day morning.

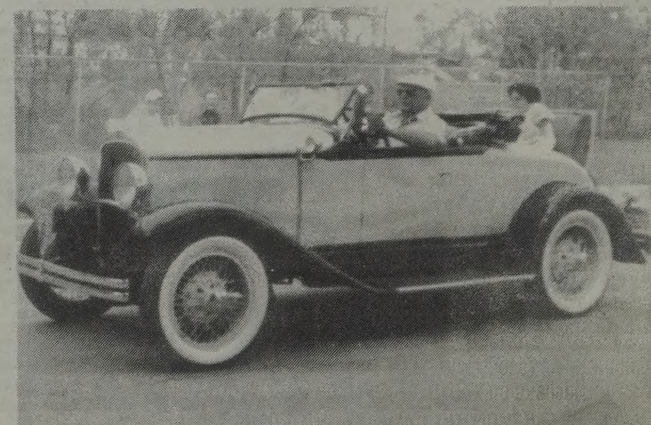

Pride and Commitment

E-Can Oilfield Services placed first in the Commercial Floats category with their entry, which expressed pride and commitment in Canada.

Gallant Pioneers

The Pioneer Circle saluted Canada's sesquicentennial with their float, which placed first in the Adult Clubs and Organizations category.

Fancy Flivver

Bob Lee's '29 Desoto tootled around the parade route in grand style after winning first place in the Antique Vehicles category.

And Still more!

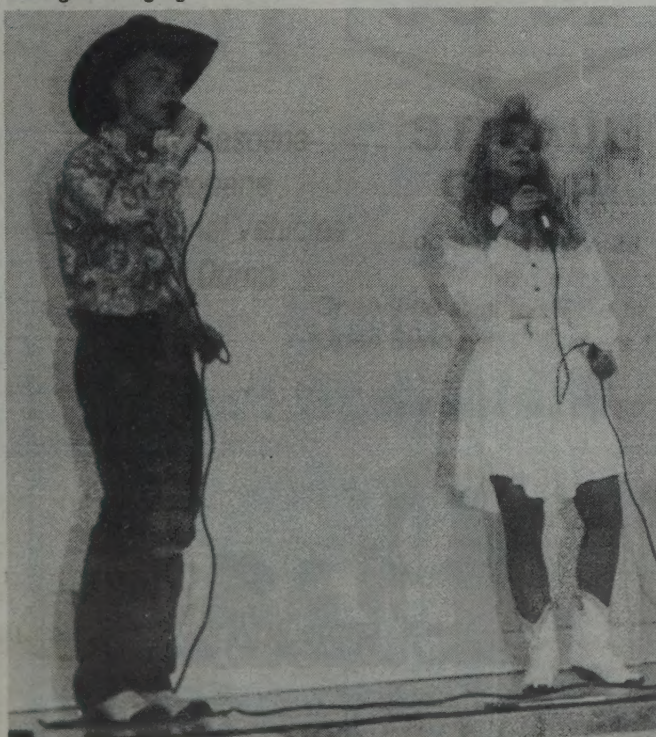

Meanwhile, At The Mural...

Presiding over the guest book and handing out "I'm On The Mural" ribbons and mural pins at the Mural Park Opening were Historical Society President Sheila Thompson, former Mural Park Committee Chairman Irene Miller, and Historical Society members Gail Kozicky and Irene Magnusson. Linda Piotrowski (left) adds her name to the long list of guests attending the opening.

Standing On Guard

SLt. Raymond Ayotte and an honor guard from RCSCC Arrowhead led the color party on stage and gave a general salute during the singing of O Canada.

Country Style Songs

Aaron and Loree Aarbo are up and coming country singers, much enjoyed by the Canada Day crowd.

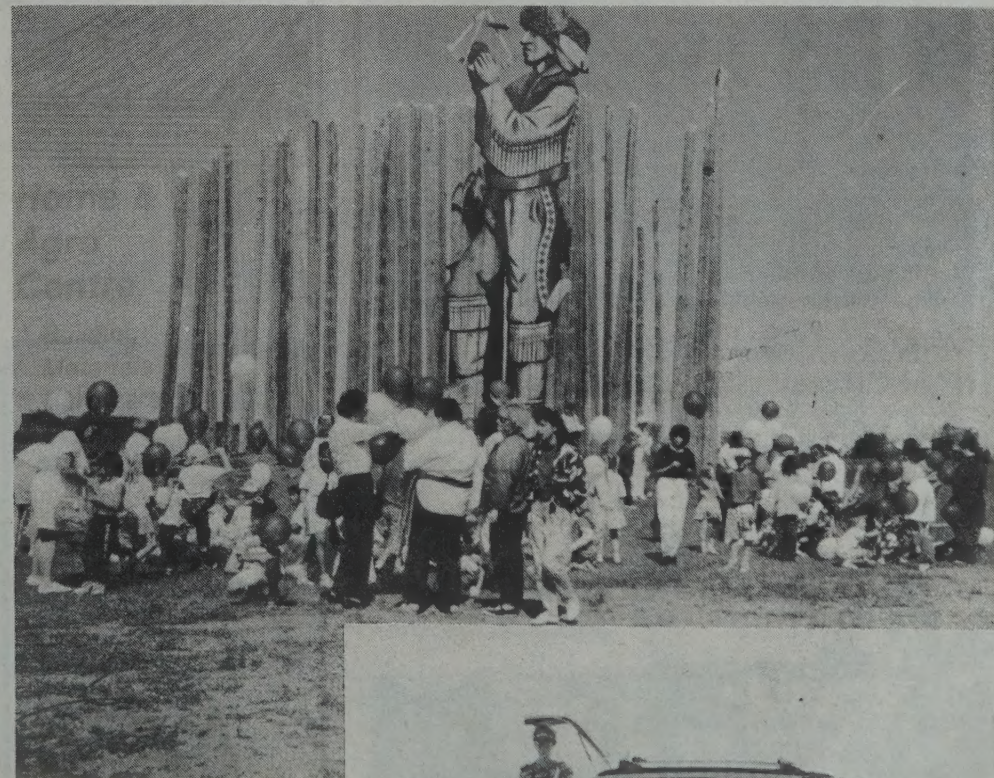

And All That Jazz

Tom Rae (foreground) and a trio of young ladies from Alcadyr Dance Studio in St. Paul entertained the Canada Day crowd with a jazz dance number.

Keeping Heritage Alive

Taralee and James Babenek keep their Ukrainian heritage alive with the colorful dances of the Ukraine. Along with their fellow members of the Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club, they made a great addition to Canada Day activities.

TV Time!

You'll be seeing Elk Point on television any day now. A Lloydminster TV crew was in Elk Point filming Bicentennial commercials two weeks ago, and caught this boisterous bunch in a celebration mood around the Peter Fidler statue.

Tennis news

Danny Maas
Tennis Instructor

With summer in full swing, participation in the tennis program has been wonderful! I'd like to thank all those who have joined our new club, and encourage all others to discover the great game of tennis through our club. It is certainly not too late to join up!

As a reminder of last week's article, there will be an adult tennis development camp on Saturday, July 25 from 1:00-5:00 p.m. This will cover the very basics of tennis, and give an introduction to all the basic shots and tennis strategies. You will also learn some of the rules of tennis to help you play a match.

Congratulations, kids, for your excellent participation in the mini tennis tournament last Friday afternoon! Remember, there's a tournament every Friday! It's still not too late to join tennis for the summer. All newcomers have lessons from 3:30-4:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays!

Tennis Tip No. 3:

When playing a singles match, try to put the ball to your opponent's weakness. Since most people have more trouble with their backhand than their forehand, it is a very effective tactic to play a ball to your opponent's backhand. This will produce a weak return, if any, by your opponent and will allow you to attack easier. Try it!

Have a good week!

4-H multiclub winds up year

The Elk Point 4-H Multi Club wound up their year with a well-attended barbecue supper at Stoney Lake Recreation Area last Monday, at which appreciation was expressed to the purchasers of 4-H steers, to the trophy donors, show judge Bill Creech, ringmaster Helen Havener, District Agriculturalist Terry Holmgren, and record book checker and judge Margaret Modin. The press was thanked for their coverage of the shows, and John Kiss was thanked for preparing the site for the barbecue.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to Vogel's UFA, Terry Wozniak Turbo Bulk, United Grain Growers and Beranne Feeds, Riverside Black Angus and Mrs. Modin.

A number of gifts, from caps and pins to t-shirts and sports bags, donated by the various breed associations, were given to the members.

Gail Havener reported on the beef raffle, and presented prizes to the top ticket sellers, Tim Havener and Dorothea Naber. She also reported that the 4-H bingos had provided funds for an equipment shed, various equipment and other needed items. The first bingo for the coming season is in October. Carrie Piotrowski presented Mrs. Havener with a gift for her efforts.

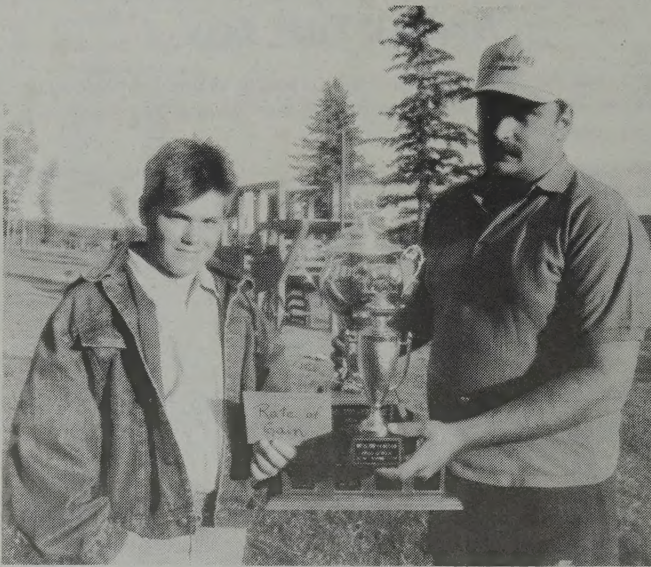

Margaret Modin remarked on the high quality of record books this year, saying she was "really pleased on the whole. There has been such an improvement." Judging was so close that two senior and three junior members were trophy winners, with the club presenting the extra trophies. Darcy Pankiw and Dorothea Naber were the senior recipients, with Vogel's UFA donating the trophy, and Robyn Danyluk, Claudia Naber and Clinton Maksymec were the junior winners, with Capitol Drugs donating the trophy.

Mrs. Modin was presented with a gift for her dedication to the club.

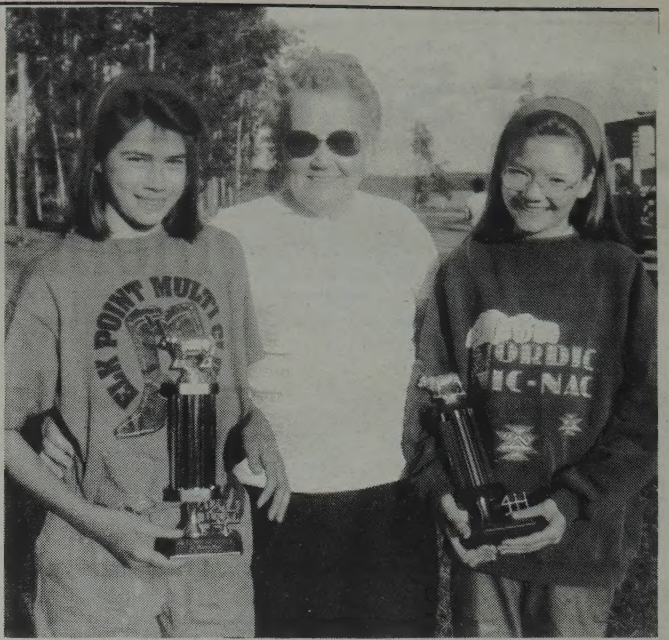

Jason Pankiw was the club's Rate of Gain winner. His calf gained 3.13 pounds per day, to win the UGG trophy.

Leaders Albert Naber, Chris Havener, Lea Wruth and Linda Piotrowski were presented with gifts to mark the conclusion of another successful 4-H year.

Rate Of Gain Winner

Jason Pankiw accepted the UGG trophy for Rate of Gain for his steer, who gained 3.13 pounds per day, from Bernie Korpan of UGG.

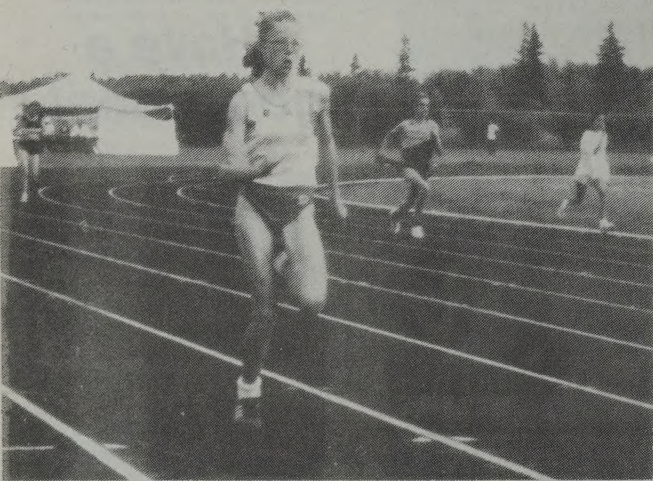

Junior Record Keepers

Robyn Danyluk (left) and Claudia Naber accepted the Capitol Drug trophies from Margaret Modin for their prowess in Record Keeping.

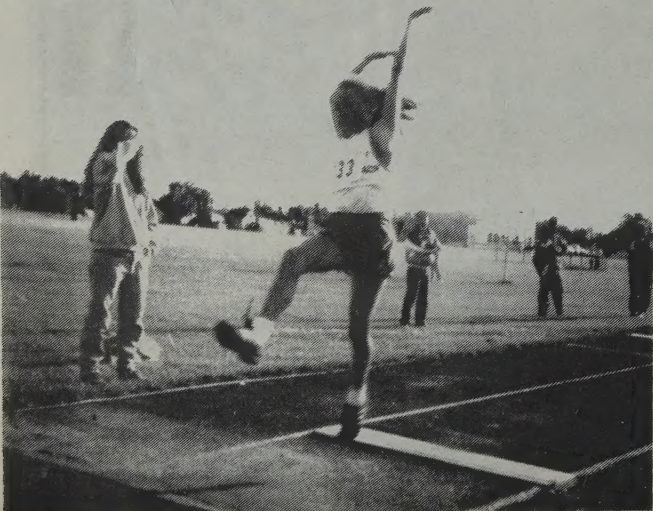

Senior Record Keepers

Turning It On

Joni Matthews goes for the gold at the Pee wee-Bantam Provincial Outdoor Championships in Red Deer Sunday. Matthews came home with a gold, silver and bronze medal.

Hop, skip and jump

NEAT cleans up in Red Deer

Though it may be a little late, the North Eastern Alberta Track Club did some spring cleaning at the Pee wee-Bantam Provincial Outdoor Championships in Red Deer, Saturday and Sunday.

"We cleaned up," NEAT coach Reg Green said, after the club brought home 23 medals. "We were awesome, in fact."

Athletes from NEAT accounted for nine gold medals, six silver medals and eight bronze medals. In the pee wee division, Denis St. Arnault had a big effort as he jumped 3.53 metres in the long to jump to win the gold medal. St. Arnault's leap was 10 cm longer than his closest opponent.

Erica Nielsen collected the most silver since the Hunts tried to corner the market in the '70's, winning three silver medals in Red Deer.

Nielsen took second place in the pee wee girls' 400 metres, 800 metres, and long jump.

The Bantams also took home their fair share of winnings.

Joni Matthews collected the full set of medals, winning a gold, silver and bronze.

She won a gold in the long jump with a jump of 4.44 metres and barely missed out of winning another in the Bantam girls' 200 metres. She wound up settling for second place as she "was leaned out at the finish," according to Green.

Matthews finished 2/100ths of a second behind the first-place finisher.

She also collected a bronze in the bantam girls' 100 metres.

Jeremy Brown, of Dewberry, was able to post a national-standard time in the Midget boys' 200 metres, winning a gold medal in a time of 23.98. Brown captured gold in the 100 metres as well, winning in a time of 12 seconds flat.

Palliative care improves the quality of life for terminally ill

Improving the quality of whatever lifetime remains is the goal of palliative care programs which are being set up to help terminally ill patients in northeast Alberta.

Marion Kendall of the Bonnyville Health Unit was in Elk Point last Tuesday to give information on setting up such a program in this area. "When you are looking at the end of life, every day becomes more important," she said. Reducing suffering and helping the family and friends of the terminally ill to cope with the situation are other facets of the program.

Palliative care was introduced in Canada in 1975, and a need for this type of program was felt in the Cold Lake area in 1987, Ms Kendall said. The first year was spent developing a philosophy and an operating manual, and the second in educating the public regarding the value of the program, which was up and running in 1989. Since then, the Smoky Lake and St. Paul areas have begun work on their own programs.

Cold Lake has had 23 clients over the past three years, of which four died at home, as they had wished to do, ten died in hospital, and several transferred to other areas. Three clients are now involved in the program.

Clients have been from all age groups, from children to seniors, and one was suffering from AIDS.

Ms Kendall said it has been "a very rewarding experience" to help alleviate suffering and to allow these people to die peacefully in the place of their choice.

Core groups Smoky Lake and Cold Lake are made up of representatives of the hospital, Home Care and FCSS, Ms Kendall said, while in St. Paul, this group includes representatives of hospital, Home Care, County of St. Paul FCSS, grieving committee, RCMP, one of the local doctors and a representative of the community at large, in "a very good group. They're moving."

The needs of both patients and their families are met by palliative care, which looks at the whole spectrum, including physical, emotional and spiritual well-being, and lessens the stress placed on both the client and the client's family.

Whitney Lake whoops it up

Two days of wild, western and at one point, even woolly, rodeo action were enjoyed by good crowds at Whitney Lake last weekend, with Les Trach Rodeo Co. supplying the excellent stock for the Lakeland Rodeo Association sanctioned event, which was sponsored by Heinsburg 4-H Multi Club.

Ted Hehr of Sherwood Park got the Sunday performance off to a great start with a winning 73 point ride on 'Alberta Blue' in the Bareback event, winning the B. & L. Williams Transport trophy, and moving Saturday's leader, Harold Blyan of Caslan, with 70 points, down to second spot.

Calf Roping was also decided on Sunday, when Clint Olson of Fort Saskatchewan tied up his dogie in 9.8 seconds, shaving 3 / 10 of a second off Saturday's best time, turned in by Vern Swaren of Mayerthorpe, to take home the trophy sponsored by St. Paul Auction Mart and Little Bros., Vermilion.

Dusty Wilkinson came all the way from Mayerthorpe for his winning ride in the Junior Bull Riding, topping 8 competitors with a 71 point ride on Saturday to take home a trophy sponsored by UFA and Meredith Whiteside Petroleum, Dewberry.

Steer Wrestling went all the way to the last competitor to find a winner. Steve Friend of Viking trimmed Saturday's top time of 4.4, turned in by both Rod Bouek of Kitscoty and Dick Powell of Darwell, to down his steer in 4.1 seconds for a trophy jointly sponsored by Agland, Lloydminster and Vermilion, and Dennill's Garage, Dewberry.

Saturday's first competitor, Kirk Jacknife of Grand Centre, set the pace for the Saddle Bronc, with a 68 point ride aboard 'Blue Springs' which went unequalled throughout the balance of the two days, for the Gordie's Tire Service trophy.

Kim Hummel of Tofield scorched her way around the barrels in just 16.12 seconds to top a field of 16 Junior Barrel Racers and win a trophy sponsored by Larry and Norma Lorenson.

Very dry and dusty conditions played havoc with the Team Ropers, with the second half of each team having a rough time seeing the heels they were wanting to catch. Saturday's fastest pair, Ken Romeo and Kelly Barr of Barrhead, got the job done in 7.3 seconds, to win trophies sponsored by George C. Webb, Fountain Tire, Wilter Auto and Lakeland Glass, all of Vermilion.

In the Ladies' Barrels, sponsored by Terry Wozniak Turbo, Tracy Gulick of Westaskiwin turned in the best time of 39 competitors, completing the pattern in 15.666 seconds.

The best was saved for last in the Bull Riding, when Robert Bowers of Leduc stuck with 1991 Bull of the Year, Rampage, to mark 75 points for the Fishing Lake Metis Settlement trophy.

Sunday's Grand Finale was the Wild Ride, sponsored by Civic Tire and Battery and Stewart Sales, both of Vermilion, William J. Ringland of Heinsburg, and Frog Lake Store, with numerous cash donations added to provide $455 for first place and $287 for second. Boyd Mahon of St. Paul, dressed for the rain which came later in slicker and umbrella, marked 125 points to win, while Gerry Walker, the Sheik of Pierceland, Saskatchewan, marked 119 for second.

Other highlights of Sunday's rodeo involved a Loonie Breakfast sponsored by Nilson Bros. Livestock and UFA, both of Vermilion, John Lypow of Heinsburg and Feed Rite, St. Paul, which fed close to 400 hungry rodeoers, an outdoor church service and a good series of local entertainers, which were much enjoyed by the breakfast crowd. Saturday night featured a rodeo dance in Heinsburg Hall with Tommy Rogers and Headin' West providing the music.

Mutton Busting and Best Dressed competitions were highlights with the youngest rodeo goers, with Leif Peterson picking up the Parkview Salers trophy after the woolliest ride of all, and Teva Butz and Justin Hozack taking home the Hillebrand Farms trophies for the best western attire in the under-10 age group.

The draw for the Stock Trailer Raffle was made at the end of Sunday's show, with the lucky winner being Yvon Chapdelain.

Get Outta Here!

Bullfighter Herb Chisan heads 'Slick,' with Edmonton cowboy Cory Shymanski aboard, off at the chute gate during Saturday's performance at Whitney Lake Rodeo.

The Future Of Rodeo

Today's mutton busters are the bronc busters, bullriders and barrel racers of the future. Corey Twarog presents the Parkview Salers trophy to winner Leif Peterson.

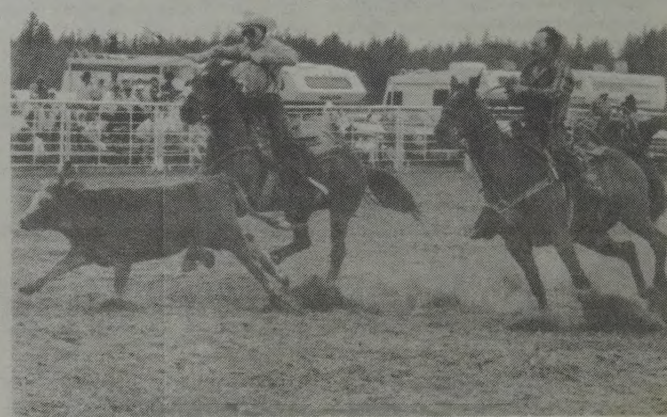

Lookin' Good!

Kenna Hillebrand presented the Hillebrand Farms trophies to the best dressed pair at the rodeo, Teva Butz (centre) and Justin Hozack.

Top Calf Roper

Clint Olson took the Calf Roping trophy donated by St. Paul Auction Mart and Little Bros. back to Fort Saskatchewan. Walter Skolarchuk made the presentation.
